Palazzo Bentivoglio, Sassoferrato (Ancona)

Palazzo Bentivoglio is a wonderful 14th century palazzo located in the historical centre. The rooms are spacious, with high ceilings, and you will find yet many special features which were added by previous sometimes colourful owners. There are quite some authentic Roman relics which were excavated nearby, and you will find lovely Portuguese tiles in many surprising locations because one of the last owners was a consul based in Portugal. The delicate arches in the living room just add more charm. Another added bonus is the roof terrace, sun all-day, with a spectacular 360 degree view. It is not often that you find such a view in an historical centre.
