Casa Lorenzo, Ripe San Ginesio (Macerata)

Casa Lorenzo is a 'classic' example of typical Marchigiani farmhouse. The front of the house is what you are looking for when you would like to get a house with real character -- that distinctive Italian style -; three wooden doors with arches and three windows making it perfectly symmetry. The house originally build in 1880 is lovely restored. It is also a property offering lots of space; the main house only has already circa 250 square meters of floor space. Included in the price is circa 3 hectares of arable land, 0,3 hectare with olives and 0.3 hectare of vines. The access road is good and within 80 minutes you can reach Ancona International Airport with daily flights to London. And, yes you have a beautiful view on the Sibillini mountains. This is the opportunity to fulfill your dream of having a charming holiday house in Italy!
